“The Therapist is Present: Relational Artistry”

With Rich Hycner Ph.D

Rich Hycner PhD brings a different emphasis each year to his workshops He has been profoundly influenced by Martin Buber’s philosophy of dialogue and Erving and Miriam Polster’s creative clinical work. He is author of Between Person and Person: Toward a Dialogical Psychotherapy and co-author with Lynne Jacobs of The Healing Relationship: A Dialogic/Self Psychology Approach. Rich is especially interested in the therapeutic relationship as the nexus for healing, and views the therapist’s presence as an especially unique and challenging medium for exploring the relational and experiential dimensions of therapy. He has been Co-Director of the Gestalt Training Institute – San Diego, and been on the Training Faculty of Erving and Miriam Polster’s Gestalt Training Center, San Diego, for 15 years. He has been a Dean for Academic Affairs as well as a faculty member at 12 graduate schools. Currently, he is Adjunct Faculty member at Alliant International University – San Diego.
